Georgia in internal... new sort of industry... very rapid and so obvious... on the property of the state... is now the danger of a revolution... spirit which has prompted them... Georgia... unless Alabama overtaken her, will present... be a model southern state. She now has... from forty to fifty manufactories, each running... one hundred to five thousand employees. Her yarns are found in every quarter of the country, and her looms are now heard mingling their cheerful sounds in proximity with the plough and the anvil.

The pictures of these things drawn by the Savannah Republican, is so cheering that we copy a portion of it below as an example to the people of our own state:

'Coming down on a freight train from Marietta to Atlanta the other day, we noticed the following articles of freight, to wit: corn in sacks, flour in sacks and in barrels, wheat, iron casting, domestic goods and yarns, cotton in bales, lime and bacon. A diversity of labor goes hand in hand with this progress. The eternal fields of cotton, and nothing but cotton, no longer appear in the up-country, except to a limited extent. The cultivation of that staple in the Northern counties will comparatively cease in a few years, and be transferred more and more to the fertile bottoms of South Western Georgia. The hill sides in the Cherokee region and middle Georgia are now smiling with green crops of wheat and other small grains. There are flouring mills, as the Etowah, the Leebanon, Columbus, those in Clarke and elsewhere, where the wheat is purchased at a liberal price and converted into flour, which has some time since found its way to Atlantic markets, while some has been exported from this port to Brazil and other countries. The article of northern flour is now almost banished from this market, and it has required scarcely a year to accomplish the change. One year the Central Railroad conveyed into the interior, 6,000 barrels of Northern flour. The year following it brought down 6,000 barrels of Georgia flour, the upward current being completely turned; and it now carries up none, unless it be the Georgia article which travels back again, for consumption at various points in the lower section of the State.

The moral and physical influence of our railroads in bringing about this new order of things, is not sufficiently appreciated. The up-country is no longer a sealed book, but a scene which passes before the traveler like a moving panorama. The travel on the State Road has probably quadrupled since it was opened to Dalton. It will increase vastly more when it is completed to the Tennessee River, and yet more when it is completed to the Tennessee River, and yet more when our communications penetrate to the interior of Tennessee. The famine in Ireland gave to the State Road extraordinary receipts from freights of provisions and breadstuffs in October, 1847. In October, 1848, the freights were greatly increased, near $2,000, without any extraordinary demand, and it has been estimated that when the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad will require four times its present locomotive power—a condition which will probably involve the construction of another track, unless the Tennessee business be done chiefly in the summer.

Our great State work has already paid back to the State the cost of its construction in the shape of a multitude of benefits, beyond the power of calculation, and it is not a daring prophecy to make that in less than twenty-five years it will pay all the debt of the State—principal and interest—and relieve her citizens from all taxation.

BIRDS.—On the night of the fire in Eutaw, thousands upon thousands of birds of all kinds known to the country, circled in wild confusion over the burning mass. The elements overhead were one living, moving body of life and animation. The circle in which they moved extended for more than half a mile, in every direction. Many were seen to dart headlong into the flames, whilst others dropped dead all around. Birds that only make their appearance periodically, were there—out of time—and those that were believed to burrow, during a large portion of the year, joined in what seems to be a general jubilee of the inhabitants of the air. The eye might have caught every shade of brilliant colors, as miriads on miriads flew in magnificent confusion over the ascending flames.—Eutaw Whig.

THE WAY TO DO IT.—German emigrants have laid out and are building a town in Texas, situated on the west bank of the Guadalupe river and near the mountains, which they call New Braunfels. The Austin Democrat says that arrangements have been made for the establishment of cotton and woolen factories there this year.

It adds.—This will be the first enterprise of the kind undertaken in Texas. It doubt it will prove eminently successful. Already there are two saw and grist mills in full operation. The surrounding country is filling up with industrious and respectable settlers, and the recent immigration from Germany is said to be of the best class. We know of no town in the interior of our State whose prospects are more promising. Northern Texas is said to be admirably adapted to wool-growing, and probably no better in the world understanding the business better than the Germans.

ed a lecture on the extent of the gold region. He described California as one thousand miles square. He has traversed the greater portion of the country between the Sierra Nevada and Rocky mountains, and found it to be the greater part to be most valuable for the purposes of population. He proceeded thus:

"He believed this tract to be equally rich in gold with that west of the Sierra Nevada, where they were now digging, nay, he believed gold would be found and worked with equal success east of the Rocky Mountains. Thirty thousand Mormons, who had been the first diggers in the present gold region, had suddenly left it to go to the Great Salt Lake neighborhood. This meant something. By the late accounts, it appeared that they had discovered gold near the lake, still more abundant than upon the banks of Sacramento, at a distance of from four thousand to eight hundred miles up the river. He believed that the three mountain chains of the Sierra Nevada the Rocky Mountains and Alleghanies, had all been upraised by some volcanic or subterranean forces, and in being upheaved they broke the crust of white, milky quartz, lying horizontally all over the country, and which experience had shown to be the native bed of gold. The upheaved mountains would shed this quartz and its ores into the valleys on both sides; and hence the latest accounts from the gold region describes them as breaking the lumps of quartz with sledge hammers and picking out the gold with bowie knives. The Rocky Mountains must have shed this quartz with its gold deposit to the east as well as the west. He mentioned finding the Camanches, the Kioway, and other tribes of Indians, wearing large lumps of gold as neck ornaments; and one old Kioway chief told him it was found seven days travel west of his village, and offered, if he would stay, to send his young men with him to the place; but Mr. Catlin being attacked with a bilious fever, and meeting with a party of dragoons, just then returning, made his way back to New Orleans. The present gold region had an area not less than that of Great Britain! and he firmly believed that in six months sand miles square would be found to contain, and would be dug or mined for gold.

For the Jacksonville Republican.

Departed this life, in Benton county, Ala., on the 16th of March, Malinda Templeton, consort of Samuel Templeton, and daughter of Wm. and Malinda Keneday, in the 25th year of her age, leaving an affectionate husband, three small children, an aged father and mother, together with many other near relations and friends, to mourn their irreparable loss.

Sister Templeton professed religion at White Plains, Benton county, on the 2nd day of October, 1847, and immediately joined the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in which she lived a worthy member, until called from the Church militant to the Church triumphant.

Her piety was of that steady, uniform, and unpretending character. She was an excellent child, a good wife, an affectionate mother, and a kind neighbor. She had for but a short duration. She was well apprised of the near approach of death, hence she did not find her preparation to meet him. She said to her husband a short time before the separation of the soul from the body, "in six hours I shall die, I want to die, Lord Jesus come, come quickly! oh Saviour take me to thyself."

In the death of Sister Templeton, the Church has lost a fast friend, the family connection, a devoted relation, and her husband all that makes home lovely, and happy. May God give him grace to bear this severe affliction, and help him to rear his motherless children in the nurture and admonition of God, is the prayer of all Christians.

Amendments to the Constitution.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS No. 1.

Proposing certain amendments to the Constitution of the State of Alabama.

Section 1. Be it Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Alabama in General Assembly convened, That the following amendments be and the same are hereby proposed to the Constitution of the State of Alabama:

"Strike out the ninth section of the third article of the constitution" and in lieu thereof insert the following:

"Section 9. The General Assembly shall cause an enumeration to be made in the year eighteen hundred and fifty and every ten years thereafter, of all the white inhabitants of the State and the whole number of representatives shall at the first regular session after such enumeration, be apportioned among the several counties, cities or towns entitled to separate representation, according to their respective number of white inhabitants, and the said apportionment, when made, shall not be subject to alteration until after the next census shall be taken—the number of Representatives shall not exceed one hundred, and the number of Senators shall not exceed thirty three; yet each county notwithstanding it may not have a number of white inhabitants equal to the ratio fixed, shall have one representative."

Strike out the thirteenth section of the third article of the constitution, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 13. Senators shall be chosen for the term of four years: Yet at the general election after every new apportionment, elections shall be held anew in every senatorial district, and the Senators then elected, when convened at the first session thereafter, shall be divided by lot into two classes as nearly equal as may be. The seats of those of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of two years, and those of the second class, at the expiration of four years, dating in both cases from the day of election, so that one half may be biennially chosen, except as above provided.

Sec. 2. Be it further Resolved. That the sheriffs and other officers, holding elections on the first Monday in August eighteen hundred and forty nine, shall ask of each voter as he deposits his ballot, are you in favor of "Resolutions Number one," for amending the constitution, and shall register his vote according to his answer, and make due return thereof. Provided, that each voter may endorse on his ticket "For Resolutions Number one," or "Against Resolutions Number one," or of all which said sheriff or other officer shall make due return to the Secretary of State according to the constitution, and within thirty days after the election.

L. P. WALKER,

Speaker of House of Representatives.

JOHN A. WINSTON,

President of the Senate.

Passed 4th March, 1849.

JOINT RESOLUTIONS No. 2.

Proposing amendments to the Constitution.

Be it Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Alabama in General Assembly convened, That the following amendments to the Constitution of the State of Alabama be proposed to the people of said State, and that if a majority of all the people voting for representatives at the next general election thereof, shall vote in favor of the election of Judges of the Circuit Courts, and also of the Judges of the inferior Courts, by the people, and the next General Assembly shall ratify the same according to the Constitution, then the proposed amendment hereinafter set forth shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the Constitution. But if a majority of all the people voting as aforesaid for representatives, shall vote for the election of Judges of the Circuit Courts, by the people, and the next General Assembly shall ratify the same according to the constitution, and a majority of such voters for representatives shall not vote in favor of the election of Judges of the inferior Courts by the people, or the same shall not be ratified as aforesaid; then the said proposed amendment, with the exception of, and without the following part therein, to wit: "and for the election of Judges of the Courts of Probate, and other inferior courts, (not including Chancery) by the qualified electors of the counties, cities or districts for which such courts may be respectively established"—shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the constitution: And if a majority of all the voters, aforesaid, for representatives shall vote for the election of Judges of the inferior Courts by the people, and the same shall be ratified, as aforesaid, and a majority of said voters shall not vote for the election of Judges of the inferior Courts by the people, or the same shall not be ratified, as aforesaid, then the amendment hereinafter set forth, with the exception of and without the following part of it, to wit: "for the election of the Judges of the Circuit Courts by the qualified electors of their circuits respectively and" shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the constitution; that is to say, at the end of the twelfth section of the fifth article of the constitution, add—But at and after the session of the General Assembly to be held in the winter of the years eighteen hundred and forty nine—fifty—the General Assembly shall provide by law for the election of Judges of the Circuit Courts by the qualified electors of their circuits, respectively, and for the election of Judges of the Courts of Probate, and other inferior courts (not including Chancery) by the qualified electors of the counties, cities or districts for which such courts may be respectively established. The first Monday in November, in any year, shall be the day for the election of such Judges by the people, or such other day, not to be within a less period than two months of the general election for Governor, members of the General Assembly, or members of Congress, as the General Assembly may by law prescribe; but no change to be made in any circuit or district, or in the mode or time of electing, shall affect the right of any Judge to hold office during the term prescribed by the constitution; except at the first elections thereof, to be made by the people, after the ratification of these amendments, or either of them; which elections shall then all be had on the same day throughout the State; and the terms of the Judges then to be elected, shall commence on that day. Vacancies in the offices of Judge shall be filled by the Governor, and the persons appointed thereto by him shall hold office until the next first Monday in November, or other election day of Judges, and until the election and qualification of their successors respectively. And the General Assembly shall have power to annex to the offices of any of the Judges of the inferior courts, the duties of clerks of such courts respectively.

Be it further Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Sheriff, and other officers charged by law with the superintendence of the next general election for representatives, to be held on the first Monday in August, in the year 1849, to ask each voter for representatives, as he hands in his ticket—1st. Are you in favor of the election of Circuit Court Judges by the people? and to endorse his answer, if in favor thereof, thus: Judges of the inferior Courts, yes; or if against, thus: Judges of the inferior Courts, no; and to endorse his answer, if in favor thereof, thus: Judges of the inferior Courts, yes; or if against, thus: Judges of the inferior Courts, no. And the several Sheriffs and other returning officers, shall make their returns, respectively, of the votes upon the said proposed amendments, and each of them, within thirty days after said election, to the Secretary of State; who shall communicate them to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, within the first week of the next session of the General Assembly. And for a failure to perform the duties herein prescribed, the said Sheriff, or other officers shall forfeit the sum of five hundred dollars to be sued for and recovered as in cases of forfeiture by public officers to the State. And it is hereby made the duty of the Secretary of State, within sixty days after the next general election, aforesaid, to notify the solicitors, respectively, of such failure of the Sheriff, or other officers.

And be it further Resolved. That the Secretary of State be required to cause these resolutions to be published for three months next before the said general election, in one newspaper printed in each of the following places, to wit: Mobile, Montgomery, Tuscaloosa and Huntsville.

L. P. WALKER,
Speaker of House of Representatives.
JOHN A. WINSTON,
President of the Senate.
Passed 1st March, 1848.

Secretary of State's Office

MONTGOMERY, Ala. 23d April 1849.

I certify the foregoing to true copies of the original deposited in this office.

W. GARRETT,
Secretary of State.

§2. If any sheriff or officer, holding, or returning, or managing, any election in this State, shall fail to perform the duties required of him by this act, such sheriff or other officer, shall forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars, to be recovered by action of debt, in any court having jurisdiction thereof, one half to the use of the State, and the other half to the person who may sue for the same; and shall also forfeit his office, and shall be incapable of holding the same again for the term of six years.

§4. It shall be the duty of the several returning officers, mentioned in this act, to return the number of all those, who may vote for representatives, and not for the proposed amendments, to the Secretary of State, at the same time and in the same manner that they return the votes for and against the proposed amendment to the constitution. ## State of Alabama,

St. Clair County.

Orphans' Court, Special Term, 18th day of April, 1849.

THIS day came into Court Abraham Green, the administrator of all and singular the goods, and chattels, rights and credits of James Morgan, late of said county, deceased, and filed his accounts and vouchers for final settlement of said estate, and the Court having examined said accounts, reports the same for allowance at a Regular Term of the Orphans' Court, to be held in and for said county, at the Court House in Ashville, on the first Monday in July next.

It is therefore ordered by the Court that publication of said settlement be made in the Jacksonville Republican for three consecutive weeks, for at least four days previous to said 1st Monday, notifying all persons interested in said settlement to be and appear at the Court House, in the Town of Ashville, on said first Monday, and show if they have anything to allege, why said account should not be allowed, and settlement be made as above stated. A true copy from the minutes.

State of Alabama,

Benton County.

County Court, sitting for Orphans' Business, May 14, 1849.

THIS day came Irby Woolley and Pinkney Woolley, Administrators of the Estate of Basil Woolley, deceased, by Martin and Thompson their attorneys, and filed their petition, setting forth that said deceased had seized and possessed of certain lands therein described, situate in the county of Benton and State of Alabama, known and distinguished as the East half of Section 6, Township 14, and Range 7, East, except 40 acres of the West line, and the South East fourth of Section 6, Township 14, and Range 7, East; Also the East half of Section 18, Township 14, and Range 7, East, all lying and being situate in the County of Benton.

That it is necessary to all ends of lands between the heirs of the said Basil Woolley, and that said lands cannot be equally fairly and beneficially divided among the said heirs without a sale thereof.

That said Basil Woolley left the following named children and heirs at law of his estate, to wit: Robert A. Woolley, Irby Woolley, Pinkney Woolley, Jennet Jones, wife of Hugh Jones, formerly Jennet Woolley, Minor Woolley, Andrew J. Woolley, Basil Woolley, Sabry C. Washburn, wife of Thomas Washburn, formerly Sabry Woolley, Ann B. Brown wife of Guion J. L. Brown, formerly Ann E. Woolley, all of full age, who reside in the State of Alabama, and Althea Hays, wife of Edward Hays, formerly Althea Woolley, who is of full age, and resides in the State of Louisiana, Mary C. Woolley, a minor, over the age of fourteen years, who resides in the State of Alabama, and for whom James Crow has been appointed guardian, ad litem.

Alleging that it is necessary to sell said lands for the purpose of making an equal, fair and beneficial distribution among the heirs of said deceased, and that an equal, fair and beneficial division among the heirs, cannot be made without a sale thereof, and further showing among other things, that Althea Hays, wife of Edward Hays, beyond the limits of this State, to wit: in the State of Louisiana, and affiliai having been made, that said Althea Hays, and her husband Edward Hays, reside beyond the limits of this State. It is therefore ordered by the Court, that publication be made in the Jacksonville Republican, for forty days, notifying all persons interested, to appear at a regular term of said court, to be held at the Court House in the Town of Jacksonville, on the first Monday in July, A. D. 1849, to answer said petition, or the same will be taken as confessed.

CAVE SPRING

FEMALE ACADEMY.

THE Trustees of this School inform parents, that it is now open, and prepared to receive scholars. It is almost useless to say that for beauty of scenery, health, fine water, morals and economy, Cave Spring is not surpassed by any village in the United States. The buildings will be, when completed, immediately in the village, and constantly under the protection and view of the citizens. The School is conducted by Mrs. Burrs, who bears from Mr. Mosely, the late efficient principal of the Cedar Town Academy, the highest testimonials of character, and of qualifications in the more solid branches; and who has already shown a capacity for discipline and teaching, that excites the admiration of the Trustees and patrons of the School. The Trustees can give no better security for the proper management of this School than the fact that they are themselves the parents of daughters, and the institution has been established in view of their interest as such. It is their purpose to afford such instruction as becomes necessary—not a mere smattering of memorized trifles, but a knowledge of principles.

To supply increasing numbers, and the wants of advancing classes, suitable teachers will be provided.

Instruction, in reading, writing, grammar, composition, arithmetic, geography, history, astronomy, the elements of chemistry, geology, and natural and moral philosophy, will form the foundation of instruction in this School. Provisions, however, will be made for music, drawing and painting, and the rudiments of the languages, for those who may desire it.

It is designed to introduce Chambers' Educational Course, a set of Books, of acknowledged superiority, uniformity and cheapness.

There is now under contract, and in course of erection, a roomy brick school house, in a beautiful situation.

There are three classes.

Spelling, reading and writing from the first, and is taught at six dollars for a session of five months.

English grammar, arithmetic, geography and history forms the second, and is taught at eight dollars per session.

The other branches enumerated above, forms the third class at twelve dollars a session.

Board can be obtained in families in the village at seven dollars a month.

May 15, 1849.

To be published once a month in the Rome, Jacksonville and Centre papers, and bills forwarded to the "Trustees of the Cave Spring Female School."

Wool Carrying done at

Chickadee Factory in the shortest time, and on accommodating terms. Rolls made here are warranted equal to any made in the State. Also, Rolls for sale at 37 cents per pound.
